Youth Projects

Gary Duffy & Niamh Clerkin, Youth Workers

Chance Project Fifteen young people from across the Inishowen Peninsula received their certificates at a special presentation in Buncrana Youth Club, having successfully completed the CHANCE Project- a programme in personal and skills development, funded through the International Fund for Ireland's Personal Youth Development Programme (PYDP). CHANCE was created to help young people develop skills that will enable them to progress into training, further education or employment.

The blended programme offered a combination of skills training, personal development and leisure activities to identify appropriate pathways for the participants to progress into education, training or work.

The guest's ceremony included newly elected County Mayor, Cllr Nicholas Crossan as well as Paddy Harte, Chair of the International Fund for Ireland. Congratulating the fifteen graduates of the programme, Mr Harte said: "We were delighted to support this project through our PYDP programme, as it typifies the positive impact and change that we are committed to delivering in communities around the border counties and in Northern Ireland. Sometimes traditional youth efforts are not effective in engaging with young people or the complex and polarising issues that they face, and new ideas and new approaches are needed. PYDP is designed for young people who feel let down or left behind. It aims to help young people build and develop life skills that foster good relations, build confidence and resilience and make them more employable."

St Muras National School Feeling 'GREAT'

St Muras National School took part in IDP's PEACE IV funded 'GREAT' Programme -(Good Relations, Empathy and Tolerance).

The GREAT Programme aims to support young people in the understanding of Empathy both on an individual basis and in their communities leading to the development of good relations and building friendships across divided communities. This programme is designed to assist young people on their journeys to reach their full potential and capabilities, to make an impact in today's world, accepting and respecting each other and also making a positive change to their communities. The GREAT programme is designed to inspire young people to make a difference.

Through this programme, St Muras National School had to complete a community project so the young people organised to have a bake sale and donate all profits to I.C.A.R.E. (Inishowen Childrens Autism Related Education). The young people decided on fundraising for I.C.A.R.E after they took part in the world Autism awareness day walk with I.C.A.R.E. There they saw that it's a vital resource and it deserves more support.

The bake sale was on the 14th June 2019 and was a huge success, the young people raised € 571 for I.C.A.R.E. This project has been supported by the EU's PEACE IV Programme, managed by the Special EU Programme Body (SEUPB). For more information on the GREAT Programme please contact niamh@inishowen.ie

Launch of MedLit on-line Training Tool

IDP recently launched the on-line training tool developed through the MedLit Project. Women were invited to come along and learn more about this free tool to support migrant women's media literacy, followed by a delicious lunch of Syrian food. Thanks to Asmaa for providing the wonderful array of food. What's on offer? MedLit offers free training in IT, basic computer skills, social media, web search, information and support for migrant women living in Inishowen. The online learning platform is a tool to help you increase understanding and learn new digital skills such as using the internet, booking a flight, searching for health service etc.

What is Media Literacy? Media literacy is closely related to active engagement in democratic life, to citizenship and the ability to exercise judgment critically and independently. The concept covers different media such as broadcasting, video, radio, press, through various channels: traditional, internet, social media. Media can facilitate the integration of refugees and migrants in a new country by providing access to information about available education, health or other services or about political and administrative information on the host country, as well as support systems and organisations available. They can also support the learning of the host country language, looking for a job, getting qualifications recognised.
